Campus Resource Visit & Reflection

To complete the Apprenticeship in Teaching Program, participants are required to visit a campus resource center. An awareness of the services that universities offer for students and teachers and how these services can be incorporated in one’s teaching is critical.

To fulfill this task, after attending the Introduction to Teaching Resources Workshop, participants will need to:

● Choose a resource center to visit (e.g., Writing Center, SHS, CAPS, ARC, or any other resource center supporting students or faculty);

● Arrange to speak with an employee of the center about the services offered and how instructors can best make use of those services;

● Submit a 1-2 page reflection on the meeting and ways to make use of this or a similar center in the future.

Reflections should be emailed to atprogram@georgetown.edu.
